GATHER TO HONOR PIONEER MISSIONARY

Eloquent Tribute to the Man Who Planted the Banner of Methodism in the West—Remains of the Pioneer Lovingly Laid to Rest

All day services are being held to the memory of Rev. Jason Lee. In the forenoon speeches were made by Hon. W. D. Fenton, of Portland, and Rev. J. R. Wilson, of the Portland Academy, directly after 1 o'clock Hon. H. W. Scott, of Portland, and Judge Reuben P. Boise made memorial addresses, and at 4 o'clock, as this paper goes to press, the remains of the great pioneer missionary are being reinterred in the Methodist mission cemetery.

The memorial exercises were held at the First Methodist church. This morning Rev. P. S. Knight, of Salem, gave the invocation, and after appropriate music Hon. W. D. Fenton, of Portland, delivered a memorial address on the life and character of Jason Lee, in which he ably set forth the hardships and privations undergone by the intrepid missionary. While the address was mainly historical in its treatment it was decidedly interesting. Judge Fenton is an able speaker, and his address was well received.

After a vocal solo by Mrs. A. M. Smith, of Portland, Rev. J. R. Wilson, D. D., principal of the Portland Academy, made an address and spoke of Jason Lee as an educator and teacher. This address, too, was a splendid eulogy of the founder of Willamette University.

THE AFTERNOON SESSION.

Hon. Harvey W. Scott Makes the Principal Address of the Day.

The exercises this afternoon began shortly after 1 o'clock in the First Methodist church. The first and principal address was made by Hon. Harvey W. Scott, of Portland. Mr. Scott's address was an able and learned effort, and demonstrated the speaker's great familiarity with the pioneer history of Oregon. In his address he avoided referring much to the claims of different people who "saved Oregon," saying this was done by a train of events in which numerous persons were important actors, but he said: "Nevertheless I must give chief credit to our beginning as an American state to the missionary effort, of which Jason Lee was the protagonist."

After following the history of the missionary effort of Jason Lee until his trip to Washington, where he presented the memorial to congress, Mr. Scott again referred to the services of Lee in saving Oregon to the Union. He said:

"It is not my intention to claim merit for one at the expense of another. All of our pioneers did well. All performed their part. But it is due to the truth of history to show that Jason Lee was the leader in colonial as well as in missionary work in Oregon, and that his journey to the East in the interests of Oregon, and his appeal to Washington, antedated the journey and the appeal of Whitman by five years."

States Eulogize Lee Tonight.

The exercises tonight will also be held in the Methodist church, and will be under the auspices of the states that were formed from the original Oregon country, Oregon, Washington and Idaho. The meeting will be presided over by Hon. A. Bush, and speeches will be made by Governor Chamberlain, speaking for Oregon; Hon. Allen Weier, on behalf of Washington, and Lieutenant Governor Stoeves, for Idaho.

What the President Said.

Washington, June 15.—It is said that the President's letter to Wadsworth, disapproving the inspection bill, contained several tart expressions. It is said he virtually accuses the committee of being subject to the influence of the packers. He decries the court review, the manner of providing for the cost of inspection, and the lack of provision for inspection. Wadsworth's reply is said to be equally peppery.

President Clowry Replies.

New York, June 15.—H. C. Clowry, president of the Western Union Telegraph Company, says: "The action of the San Francisco special committee is an outrage. Our company did more to assist San Francisco than any other company or organization in the United States. At the start we threw open our wires for the use of the relief committee free of charge. We handled and still handle free all messages sent to San Francisco in reference to relief work."

He declared that at the time of the disaster it was announced that no messages would be accepted, except subject to delay. He said all the wires were down for 50 miles around San Francisco. A small proportion of the messages received at points near San Francisco were mailed.

CRIMINAL CHARGES PENDING

Standard and Railway Officials Must Answer for Violation of Laws

Cleveland, O., June 15.—Instructions have been given at Washington to begin criminal proceedings against the Lake Shore railroad, George J. Gamm, vice-president of the New York Central west of Buffalo; the Standard Oil Company, and whatever other officers may be shown to have been implicated in the payment and receipt of rebates, which were disclosed in the interstate commerce commission hearing here. The contemplated proceedings may include Edgar Bogardus, traffic manager of the Standard Oil Company at Chicago, and other officers of the Lake Shore at Chicago and Cleveland. This, together with the complete breakdown of the Standard Oil Company, when it was given the eagerly-sought opportunity to make a defense before the commission, was the denouement of the commission's session.

Fines May Reach Millions.

Under the law, both the railroad company and the official can be fined not less than $100 nor more than $20,000 for each offense, and similar treatment can be given the Standard Oil Company and the officials of that corporation who may be shown to have been guilty of soliciting the payment of the rebates. The Standard Oil Company and the railroad company and their officials may be assessed several millions of dollars for their infractions of the law.

In addition to this, if the commission's attorney finds that he can proceed under the injunctions of the courts, and he is now certain that this is possible, a charge of contempt of court may be pressed and involve a punishment of both fine and imprisonment.

Evidence Too Clear to Ignore.

The testimony in the case was so positive and clear that the commission felt that they could not ignore it. After communication with Washington, it was decided to institute all the criminal proceedings possible against the accused and to prosecute them vigorously. The instructions are to leave no stone unturned in the attempt to bring the suspects to the fullest justice.

BOYS' CAMP

Meeting of the Boys Will Be Held Tonight—Camp Will Be Held

Today's rain has put something of a damper on the enthusiasm developed amongst the members of the club over their proposed camp trip.

Tomorrow is the day set for the camp and most of the boys desire to go. Some of the parents think it was postponed the start until Monday.

At a conference this morning the boys agreed that it would not be better to postpone the date of beginning and shorten the time for camping. It was suggested and agreed that a start would be made tomorrow with those boys who wished to go that day, and that the other boys could join the party on Sunday Monday.

The grounds secured for the camp are a short distance beyond Turner Mill Creek, and are very dry, with gravelly formation under a thin layer of soil. Three or four hours of sunshine will dry them thoroughly, and it is probable we will have this row morning, if not before night.

As a protection a supply of straw will be provided, which will be strewn two to three inches deep each tent, providing a warm, sleeping place for the boys. All tents will be water proof.

A special meeting of the boys will be held tonight, when definite announcements will be made.
